Beyond Charity:

*“Oh no, something bad is happening.
Let’s do a cake sale!”*

In this workshop, James will explore the call to put faith into action for the common good. In particular, he will encourage us to think about our responsibility as educators to teach and model a wide repertoire of responses to need and injustice.

James Trewby

James is the Columban’s Justice and Peace Education Worker. In this role he helps young people and educators explore the relationship between faith and action, where possible through experience and encounter; “A life unlike your own can be your teacher” (St Columban).

James is a qualified teacher with an MSc in ‘Education and Training for Development’ and a PhD exploring life stories of activist educators. He has volunteered and worked for the Salesians and the Columbans and has varied experiences of community life, prayer, supporting volunteers, social action and activism. None of this adequately prepared him for having two small children.
